As for Persia there is no present danger, in spite of her strained relations with Russia.

Berlin, 5th—In the Ahtwardt trial about the "Jew Rifle," turned out by the Loewe factory, Ahtwardt presented documents surreptitiously obtained from the public offices.

The Judge cleared the court in order that the public should not learn the scandalous disclosures in said documents. Ahtwardt summoned as witnesses several prominent persons who are implicated.

OUR LONDON FRIENDS.

The mails which arrived yesterday contain various articles on River Plate finances and reports of joint-stock companies connected with this country, the reading of which gives an insight into the sentiments of the gentlemen with whom, or with whose friends, we shall have shortly to make a re-arrangement of the Argentine debt.

There seems to be a general conviction in London that the Moratorio of January 1891 was an impossible contract, and that there is not the faintest hope of Argentina being able in January 1894 to resume the service of the debt. Hence the movement on foot to induce Dr. Romero to sign a fresh Moratorio for three years longer, a proposal still more iniquitous than the original compact.

The Economist does not advocate a second Moratorio, but agrees with us that it is expedient to ascertain how much the country can really pay, and to make an arrangement on this basis. It condemns, however, our plea that the debt should be reduced because the Argentine Republic never received the nominal amounts of the loans issued. To our view there is something decidedly 'immoral' in loans where the borrower received £80 and was compelled to give a bond for £100, but the London loan-mongers saw nothing wrong even in the Paraguayan loan, where the amount was 3,000,009 sterling and Paraguay received only £180,000 in cash. If Argentina in like manner had received £20 for every £100 bond the London Stock Exchange would have seen nothing immoral in the transaction.

The Financial Times suggests, instead of a new Moratorio, that the Argentine Government should cede 50 per cent of its monthly revenues for the benefit of its creditors. This would amount to about $45,000,000 currency per annum, or something over $3,000,000 sterling, which would suffice to pay about 4 per cent on the national debt, including guaranteed railways.

Before consenting to such an arrangement it is necessary to consider what is the lowest sum for which the internal government of the country can be carried on. If we eliminate altogether the service of debt and the payments on account of the Madero Docks we find that the expenditure in 1891 was as follows:—

	$ currency.
Interior	33,510,000
F. Affairs	1,750,000
Justice	6,320,000
Finance	5,090,000
Army and Navy....	16,010,000
Total	62,680,000

We are, therefore, of opinion that the administration in 1894 will cost 60 or 65 millions, and that it is impossible (if the revenue reach 90 millions) to set aside more than 25 or 30 millions for the bondholders and guaranteed railways. Whatever new arrangement may be arrived at we shall do our utmost to carry out, but the Moratorio was clearly impossible from the first.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Nov. 12

A dense fog. A yellow chap of the dear old kind. Mr. Gladstone cannot stand it. He is off to Brighton to-day and will afterwards go to Hawarden to stay until the beginning of the year. What Lord Salisbury calls "Mr. Gladstone's vanity and infatuation" may to a certain extent be admitted, but the "old hand" has had his cabinet councils and taken a squint at the world he has created and pronounces it to be good. For one thing he has settled the Uganda question. There is to be no scuttle except on the part of the East African Company, which removes its chattels from Uganda in March. The British Government is to take charge of the place and the missionaries at an estimated cost of £40,000 per annum. Truly a small sum, if we could only guarantee that it would remain at that figure.

The Tenants Eviction Commission is a growing trouble that will be left to Mr. Morley to settle. Meanwhile Mr. Murphy, one of the Commissioners, has resigned, and the Landlord Convention at a meeting of the executive Committee just held in Kildare Street, have decided to withdraw all landlords' evidence.

Mr. Asquith has examined the affidavits from Canada in reference to the insanity said to have existed in Neill's family, and has determined that there is no cause for interference in the law's course. Neill will be executed on Tuesday 15th inst.

The news from New York this morning shows that the Democrats intend to push their victory. Mr. Cleveland does not enter office until March 1893 and Congress will not meet till December in that year. Under those circumstances it is proposed to take steps to get the McKinley tariff annulled without delay. The Senate, says the Daily News correspondent, is to be urged to pass the five raw material Bills, sent to it by the Lower House last session. These remove all duties from wool, tinplates, cotton-ties, cotton bagging and machinery for making cotton bagging, and reduce the duties on woollen goods. It is thought that, owing to the popular revolt there will be sufficient Republican Senators willing to pass the Bills. The Republicans have only a majority of six, and a change of four would therefore suffice. It is also urged that Mr. Cleveland should call a special session to meet in April and set Congress at work on a comprehensive measure of tariff reform to take the place of the McKinley Bill. With Mr. Cleveland as President everyone is aware that no violent change will be made.

You will receive, as we have done, a telegram announcing the signing of a treaty of alliance between France and Russia. Here the telegram is not believed and by some papers not even quoted. It is thought that the extraordinary ascendancy of the Socialist party in the Municipal councils in France will prevent the Czar from entering into closer relations with the Republic Besides, the same telegram has appeared periodically ever since the visit of the French fleet to Kronstadt. On the other hand the position of affairs in Servia and Roumania alarms some politicians.

* * * *

Notwithstanding a spurt in the London Stock Exchange this week in South African shares, and also in Argentine, the financial prospects warn us against over-hopefulness. The threatened bankruptcy of Spain, and the financial condition of other continental States are thought to discourage speculation on stock-exchanges. Money is very easy in London, owing to the cessation of withdrawals of gold on Russian account, but the drain may recur at any moment. There are some who regret the "strong hand" of Mr. Lidderdale who, it is supposed, would have turned on the Bank screw long since. Perhaps those people are mistaken. Mr. Powell is a strong hand and less exciteable than his predecessor. Governing with the screw is like governing with bayonets—it is easy but not far-reaching.

Amongst the items of finance I send you in print, you will find many gratifying indications of renewed confidence in River Plate affairs—a confidence which extends to the Republic of Uruguay. Mr. Grenfell's Report has influenced a faith in the future prosperity of the Banda Oriental. But people here do not sufficiently draw a distinction between material prosperity as testified by hides and tallow and maize and the financial position of the governments. Your article on "What can Argentina pay?" is, as you will see, discussed by the Economist—which means it will be discussed by the whole commercial community. The Economist seems to shrug its shoulders and say "well, if it is so, it is so," and proceeds to attack from an individualist and mere investors' point of view an incidental ethical question as to the condonation of "scaling down" on the plea that loans are issued at a discount. This is essentially and ultimately the same question we have here in relation to "betterments" and perpetual pensions; and I feel inclined to add perpetual funded debts where ever-increasing expenditure makes sinking-funds impracticable. But setting aside the ethics of political economy, your figures seem to me irresistible. As to the particular proposals it is evident that the Economist itself could say nothing; and for want of that minute knowledge of Argentine finance none of us can possess here.

You will find an article from the Financial News on non guaranteed railways in the Argentine, which is worth reading, but I warn you that your contemporary seems to be rather in with the syndicates and liable to tossing with his horns. Speculation in Argentine railways has been lately very tempting and will no doubt continue, but you must not take all you see as representative of independent opinion. We sometimes get a start by reading a New York telegram announcing the intention of the Argentine Republic in alliance with Peru of making a "swoop"—as a telegram before me says—upon Chile, and dividing the spoil between them. The telegram does not depress Chilian securities and is not taken seriously; although in the Buenos Ayres papers we see allusions to international jealousies and follies that under existing circumstances are incomprehensible.

Another rumour on the Stock Exchange yesterday that there had been a revolution in Chile did affect the securities. Chilian new stock fell to 1 but subsequently recovered and left off at 2¼ premium. The London Agency of the Deutsche Bank which is interested in Chilian securities, sent a telegram to Santiago to ascertain the truth of the rumour. The reply has just arrived—"utterly without foundation." Someone has no doubt benefitted by these telegrams.

I enclose a report of the meeting of the holders of Buenos Ayres Six per Cent Bonds. The settlement gives the equivalent of £3. 17. 6 in cash for the seven coupons six overdue and one shortly due. The Chairman, Lord Eustace Cecil, had a good word to say for the loyalty with which the Municipality had so far acted.

Mr. G. W. Drabble presided yesterday at an extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the B. A. Western Railway held at Cannon Street Hotel, when resolutions were passed providing for an increase of the Company's capital.

The big financial journals have nothing to say this week about the Argentine.

DEBT OF ARGENTINA.

(From our London correspondent.)

London, 12th Nov.

What can Argentina pay? The Economist of 5th inst. says:—"An attempt to answer this very important question is made by the Buenos Ayres STANDARD Setting aside the Rothschild Committee arrangement as a scheme "devised solely in the interest of Baring Brothers" and as one which "is plunging the Republic more hopelessly in debt" the journal proceeds to a statement of the country's actual liabilities and resources. The national debt in March this year was, it states, $303,600,000 gold or £60,000,000 exclusive of railway guarantees, Cedulas and other obligations. The total revenue last year was $19,200,000, and assuming an increase of 50 per cent this year it would reach $28,800,000 gold. The journal thinks that 20 per cent. or by a great effort of economy 25 per cent of this amount could be set aside for the service of the $303,600,000 debt. To devote the latter proportion of the national revenue exclusively to the debt service would entail a 20 per cent reduction in expenditure in other directions all round, and the STANDARD is certain that that is the most that can be hoped for; it even doubts if such reduction is possible. Taking it for granted however, the amounts available for the service would be $6,060,000 or £1,200,000 for the debt and $1,140,000 or £220,000 for the railway guarantees; these sums representing 2 per cent on the debt and a reduction of the railway guarantee by nearly 75 per cent. What the journal proposes with these figures before it is either to reduce the interest on the debt to 2 per cent for the next 40 years and then to issue bonds at 3 per cent for the whole existing debt; or to cut down the debt at once to £30,000,000 sterling and fix the interest at 4 per cent until the close of the century, the bonds to receive 5 per cent per annum after Jan. 1, 1901. "All the financiers in London and Buenos Ayres" the Standard adds, "cannot devise a plan by which to get more, and if the creditors look for more they will only increase confusion." In putting the plan forward, however, we note that even the Buenos Ayres STANDARD which, as a rule, shows a determination to look matters fairly in the face, puts forward the well-worn plea of which we have heard so much lately, that the Argentine loans were in many cases issued at a very considerable discount, and that therefore the proposal to reduce the debt by 50 per cent is not "anything very monstrous". Such a plea does not, of course, bear looking into. The loans were not issued at a discount as an act of generosity to the investing public; the terms were the best the country could obtain, and it was merely a question of issuing the loans at a low price or offering a higher rate of interest. Thus, in the present case of default the question of the issue price does not enter at all, and it certainly does not put any better face upon the very serious reduction which appears to be necessary. Unfortunately too, not even the acceptance of this huge reduction would settle the Argentine difficulty, for the question of the provincial and municipal debts is left untouched, and it has become evident that if the national unity of the Republic is to be preserved, some method of dealing with these debts will have to be devised."

ELECTION IN THE U. STATES.

CRUSHING REPUBLICAN DEFEAT.

New York, Nov. 9th.

Mr. Cleveland has been elected by an overwhelcoming majority of the popular vote, and by a larger majority in the Electoral College than any other Presidential candidate has had since Lincoln. Mr. Cleveland's election is simply a second national revolution against the McKinley Tariff, surpassing in some respects the first revolution of 1890. The people of the country declare in unmistakable terms that they will stand no more high tariffs.

The Republicans are dazed by the crushing blow that has fallen upon them. They have not only lost New York and Indiana, but several States which had never been carried by the Democrats. New York, which gave Mr. Harrison a 14,000 majority in 1888, now gives Mr. Cleveland one of 42,000. Illinois, which gave Mr. Harrison 22,000 majority in 1888, and which has always been Republican in the Presidential contest, gives Mr. Cleveland from 8,000 to 10,000 plurality. Wisconsin, which gave Mr. Harrison 21,000 majority in 1888, now gives Mr. Cleveland over 15,000 majority. Five or six of the extreme North-Western States, which heretofore have been Republican, have been carried by candidates of the People's party, which favours the free coinage of silver and a low tariff, so that Mr. Harrison loses their votes. In all parts of the country the Republicans lose heavily, and the Democrats gain; and from the same reason in all—dissatisfaction with McKinleyism.

The farmers have revolted almost in a body, and with them business men, and German, Scandinavian, and foreign-born voters generally. The new Congress will be heavily democratic in its Lower branch, and there is a prospect that the Senate will be Democratic when Mr Cleveland assumes office. It is the universal opinion that the election means the downfall of the high tariff for ever, and the starting of the country upon the gradual road towards ultimate Free Trade. Republicans now see their mistake is not heeding the warning given in 1890.

Mr. Cleveland, 277; General Harrison, 135; General Weaver, of the People's party, 32. The aggregate of votes necessary to secure election being 223, Mr. Cleveland, with a majority of 54, has obtained an easy victory. Twenty-five States have elected their Governors, and of these fifteen are Democratic.

Mr. Cleveland has been overwhelmed with congratulations. Mr. Harrison received the news of the result very philosophically at Washington.

Contrary to previous estimates, the latest returns show that the new Senate will probably consist of 45 Democrats, 38 Republicans, and 5 members of the People's party.

When the new Congress meets there will be a large Democratic majority in the House of Representatives; but it is not yet quite certain what will be the constitution of the Senate. Most people think it will have a Democratic majority. If so the Democrats will, for the first time since the war be able to carry out effective Democratic legislation.

The vote in the forty-four States of the American Union on Tuesday will certainly be the largest ever given in a Presidential contest. In the last election, that at which Mr. Harrison was elected in 1888, only thirty-eigth States took part; in the present election the number of States is forty-four—North Dakota, South Dakota, Montaña, and Washington having been added in 1889, and Idaho and Wyoming in 1890. The election of President takes place by a popular vote, but each elector votes, not directly for the President, but for a group of Presidential electors. Every State has an electoral College, which consists of as many persons as the State has representatives in Congress and members in the Senate.

The next step in the election will be taken early in next year. On a certain day the Presidential electors will meet in each State and formally give their votes for the candidate they have been chosen to represent. This vote will be reported to Washington, verified by Congress, and Mr. Cleveland's election will be announced. At twelve o'clock on the 4th of March Mr. Cleveland will take office. There will be a curious significance in this event on the coming occasion. Four years ago Mr. Cleveland was President of the United States, and had been run by the Democratic party for another term. His opponent was Mr. Harrison, who had defeated him. Shortly before twelve o'clock on the fourth of March, 1889, Mr. Harrison drove to the White House, where President Cleveland and his Ministers received him. Then an immense procession escorted him back to the Executive Mansion, while Mr. Cleveland drove away to the house of a friend. The ceremony thus gone through on the Fourth of March, 1889, will be repeated on the Fourth of March, 1893, with the difference only that the positions of the chief actors in the drama will be reversed.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO

Monday.

The death is announced of Mr. Lermitte, an old and esteemed merchant.

The Spanish festivities began yesterday with great animation in the Campo Euskara. The fetes this year appear to be more numerously attended than they were last year.

The Gefe Politico of Florida has arrived here and obtained from the Government the promise of a detachment of troops to keep order during the coming elections for the vacancies in the Senate.

It is again reported that the Banco de Credito Popular de Rio Janeiro will apply to Government to foreclose the arrears collected by the Mortgage Bank. It is maintained that, even if the Courts grant this petition, the Bank would still have wherewith to pay the December coupon.

In regard to the rumored new financial combination planned by the Government as a means of overcoming the evils of the crisis, it is said that the flying-stamp idea predominates. However, nothing is positively known, and the Government itself seems to be paying more attention to electoral matters than to finances. Two electoral bills have been laid before the Chambers for urgent reforms.

Rowley and Co. have submitted to Government for approval the plans of the proposed port at the Buceo. The Government appears to be favorably inclined towards this proposal.

Telegrams from Rio Grande report an armed rising in Santo Tomé.

At a ministerial council it was decided to dismiss several employees of the Custom House who are suspected of being implicated in smuggling.

Government is about to name the following committee of engineers to inspect the works in the Martin Garcia channel: Felipe Victorica, Carlos Honoré, and Roberto Penco.

The death is announced of Miss Estela Stunz at the residence of her parents in Paso Molino. The news of this young lady's death has caused a very sad impression, all the more so as she was engaged to be married shortly.

PARAGUAY.

Asuncion, Nov. 30th.

The tobacco law to come into force in the Argentine Republic on January 1st next, by which Paraguayan tobacco must pay 30 cents gold import duty, per kilo, is the subject, naturally, of much comment here in political and commercial circles. The local newspapers think it very hard treatment to receive from their neighbours in Argentina, and that the law is opposed to the principles alike of brotherly love and political economy; forgetting the tall talk made use of not very long ago when the annexation idea was mooted. If the law referred to will have the effect of excluding Paraguayan tobacco from the Argentine market it is difficult to see how means can be found to carry on the government of this country without some radical change.

Owing to the increased duties recently imposed on imports into Paraguay, the receipts for same have augmented very much—$250,000 paper are looked for the current month, say, at present rate of exchange 560 %—about $45,000 gold, but this is not likely to continue.

INTERESTING EXPLORATION.

Our La Plata exchanges announce the return to their posts in the Museum there of Messrs. Ambrosetti, Methfessel and Beaufils, who went to the beautiful and almost unknown falls of Iguazú in Misiones. The three gentlemen mentioned were commissioned to make out an account of the expedition and report on the tribes which are supposed to live in the vicinity of the South American Niagara.

The expedition left B. Ayres on the 14th of July. They stopped at Goya to make some excavations on ground formerly occupied by Indian settlements. The efforts of the expedition in this direction were attended with great success, many curious and valuable objects having been found. The Chinipi Indians in Corrientes, moreover, supplied many valuable curiosities. The collection was enlarged and enriched by further contributions at Posadas and other places. The steamer which conveyed the party could not get further than Tacurú Pucú. At this point the expedition landed and proceeded some 150 miles inland to study the habits and customs of the Caniguas Indians, an interesting and primitive tribe of peaceful savages, who have rarely been visited and are therefore very little known. On their return to the bank of the river, the expedition proceeded in a boat up the river Iguazú to the neighborhood of the falls. On the bank they discovered an Indian burial-ground where they found a number of corpses enclosed in baked earth.

The expedition met, on their journey to the falls, with great difficulties, principally owing to the climate, the insects and the luxuriance of the vegetation. In spite of these difficulties, Mr. Methfessel filled his album with sketches of the gorgeous scenery on the banks of the Iguazú. Mr. Ambrosetti, we trust, will publish his interesting diary. Mr. Methfessel is at present engaged in painting the Falls of Iguazú, with a view of forwarding the picture to the Chicago Exhibition. The collection made by the expedition fills 30 large boxes, the contents having been scientifically arranged and classified by Mr. Beaufils.

We learn that another expedition will be made next winter.

MORE IMMORALITY.

Dec. 2nd.

Mr. Editor,

It is alas, no mere rumour that the Argentine Government is working hard to keep gold at 200 % premium.

I have it from a friend of Dr. Romero, that he is sorely annoyed at the fall in gold and will do all he possibly can to prevent a further appreciation of the paper money of which so many of us are the unwilling possessors.

QUILMES ANGLICAN CHURCH BAZAAR.

Dec. 1st.

Mr. Editor,

I notice that our friends in Quilmes intend on the 8 and 9 instant to hold a Bazaar and Fancy Fete in aid of the funds for building the new Anglican Church there. As a lover of the Church and an old Bazaar goer, I with all my heart wish success to such a spirited enterprize, and excellent trip as the Committee offer. I have however a word of cantion to offer.

Bazaars in their gross result are, as a rule, very considerable in amount; but when the endless expenses, over which no committee, however exigent, ever have any control, are deducted, the net result is often disappointing.

I have before me the printed list of the ladies who officiated at the British Hospital Bazaar, nearly one hundred strong, all of whom wore fancy dress of some kind. Now, while I do not wish to protest even against it, or to detract from the brilliant success of, or the scene at, that Bazaar. I with many others thought that, beautiful as the effect was, a large amount of money was spent upon dress of little but slight utility. The present style of modern dress is, or can be, so beautiful that even XVII. century costumes did not add to the charm of the ladies at the Quilmes Stall.

I have myself at the Albert Hall and other places seen Bazaars where the cost of the dresses worn by the ladies exceeded the value of the wares on the stalls tenfold. How much better would it be if such expense as this could be diverted into the river of charity? To the Hospital fund it would have made an addition of not less than $6,000 or $7,000.

Quilmes is to have its "fete champetre." I therefore caution it against expenditure on such items as Watteau dresses, 'al fresco' costumes of Sweet Shepherds and Shepherdesses clothed "with coral clasps and amber studs" as Marlowe's Shepherdesses.

Let the stall holders sell good articles at reasonable prices and their success is assured.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Winter lingered in the lap of Spring yesterday, and seemed to like his pleasant seat. The wind was so cool and refreshing that, but for the hot political rumours current, top-coats would have been agreeable. The Gold Eagle says that the Cabinet Coach will be upset, or at least one of its axles smashed, before Christmas Day.

Forty-four Deputies mustered at 3 p.m. yesterday. The House approved the charges against Judge Pizarro, as framed by the Investigation Committee, and rose at 6.45 p.m.

There was a double-barrelled rumour afloat late last night in political circles: one side of it was that Pres. Peña had written to Dr. Romero supporting his policy; the other that he had written criticising it. Our reporter wore out a pair of boots trying to interview the Finance Minister on the point, but failed to see His Excellency.

Mr., Mrs. and the little Tout-le-mondes were out on Sunday and "all over the place." Trains, trams and hack coaches made fortunes for their owners, and the theatres were crammed at night.

There was a curious transaction in the Editorial Bus yesterday while the vehicle was bumping and jolting over the journalistic stones. One of the oldest travellers in the rattletrap bought from one of the youngest, what to you think readers? Pens? Ink? Paper? None of them; but 75,000 bricks at an extremely reserved price. Bricks in the E. B. are a decidedly good sign of the times. We suppose the next transaction will be in mortar.

The breakfast and dinner on the special rapid train of the 8th to Mar del Plata will be served by the Maison George Mercer.

We issue to-day as a supplement to our paper the prospectus of "The Arrow," an illustrated monthly magazine which will be published by Mr. A. Stuart Pennington, whose object is to produce a magazine readable from cover to cover and of interest to every member of the household. Each number will contain a phototype engraving of some place or scene of interest in the country, in addition to a number of carefully executed illustrations. We understand that no effort is being spared by Mr. Stuart Pennington to make the magazine worthy of acceptance, and, from the names of the writers already on the staff of "The Arrow," we have no doubt of the success of this, the first monthly illustrated magazine published in the English language on the banks of the Plate.

Our London friends are "out" again in their forecasts. Their very latest idea was, we learn by yesterday's mail, that the Peña Government would not dare to even mention a "scaling down" of interest on Argentine loans. Dr. Romero's now famous note must have had the effect of a melanite shell amongst them.

The Rev. Dr. Smith A. M. will preach on Sunday the 18th inst at the Ferguson estancia, district of Cañuelas.

The kindergarten class on physiology was being heard. "What's your heart?" the teacher asked. "That's the thing that stops you from dropping dead," replied the bright little boy.

Here's a decidedly "tall" story; and it is not from the United States, but from dull, serious and matter of fact London. Inspector New, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, whilst investigating a case of alleged child desertion, met with a youth, apparently about 18 years of age, who had the appearance of a large frog. He was entirely naked and was hopping about the stone floor of his father's house with the movements of a frog. The inspector left the house to communicate the matter and take action, if necessary, but on returning found that the human frog had been sold for a sovereign to a person who intended to exhibit him. The father is to be proceeded against.

The telegraph clerks that struck have struck only themselves, as their places were easily filled up, and there was no interruption in the service. The deserved popularity of Dr. Carlés, Post Master General, was made manifest in the emergency, as he received offers of sssistance from all parts of the republic, and many amateur telegraphists volunteered their services.

The Zoos did good work in November, their number of cases of cruelty prevented or punished running up to 114.

There will be a bull-fight at Lujan on Thursday next. What about the law? And where are the Zoos and the police?

Don't forget to note on the tablets of your memory that the gala affair at the Skating Rink on Thursday will draw all the high-life of the city and all the officers of the garrison, as the proceeds are to go to the Military Orphans, little ones who are quite as deserving of compassion and support as other fatherless children.

The latest reliable news our friends at home had about the revolution in Santiago del Estero was from Valparaiso, and to the effect that the movement was "headed by a son of ex-President Lopez!" Bravo! Try again. Better luck next time.

There is intense exitement amongst the female population of the capital of Chile, owing to a happy thought of the Master of the Ment of that Republic, who is searching for the prettiest girl in Santiago, to put her effigy as Liberty on the new gold coins about to be struck off. How the winning beauty will be envied!

A gallant Major in the army is in difficulties, not monetary but matrimonial. Bigamy.

The sale of infamous books in the streets is getting worse and more unblushing than ever. If is specially bad in Plaza Mayo. The apathy of the police in dealing with this abuse is quite inexplicable.

The raffle of Los Paraisos estancia has ended in the place falling to ticket 2294; and we hope one of our subscribers holds it. The drawing lasted three mortal days. 4096 tickets were sold.

The long-dormant project for draining the South of the province of Buenos Ayres, to prevent inundations, is about to be brought before the La Plata Chambers again. Some eminent engineers have predicted that in the draining all the "humus" of the soil will be carried away and the drained districts will become as barren as Sahara. Nothing more likely. There seems to be a fatality clinging to all River Plate schemes connected with water; they all turn out upside-down. This is very curious, but it is true.

An Aberdonian, while in a London hotel, said to the waiter: "Far's ma beets?" The waiter immediately answered: "Speak German downstairs, please."

The Rosario Police Commissary who murdered his wife last week was a quondam convict, who only received his appointment quite recently, on his liberation from jail!!! This is the kind of thing that makes old Europe stare and gasp with astonishment.

Many people pity the family of the late Mr. Jay Gould at being left in comparative poverty. Fifteen millions sterling is a miserable, one-horse fortune in the Big Republic, though still looked on as a respectable competence in other parts of the world.

"Who is that long-haired young fellow who seems to have nothing to do?" inquired the casual observer.

"That's our poet" said the village clerk. "The village clubs together and pays his board and clothes."

"Where are his works published?"

"Ain't never published. He's arranged to have em printed after he's dead. That's why we are trying to keep him alive as long as we can."

The officers of the Banda Oriental army seem addicted to unnecessary expenditure of muscular force on weak objects. Not long ago a Colonel was called to order for using his sword to thrash his horse when on parade. Another gallant officer of equal rank is now in trouble for having assaulted and buffeted an elderly woman whose dog had bitten his little boy.

We have to thank equally our kind friends Messrs. MacKern and Shine and Galli Hermanos for running a dead heat into our office yesterday with the latest paperss from England to 12th ult. We threw open our cellar to them; and they departed like news-agent giants refreshed.

The following story from The Million is evidently an upside-down version of the fight that took place in the Interior a couple of months ago owing to a "gaucho" having run away with another's wife, the husband overtaking the fugitives and both men being killed in the deadly duel that followed in the open camp:—"A duel with lariats was fought in the Argentine a few weeks ago. The duellists were rivals for the hand of a beautiful girl, who promised to marry the victor. The first man threw his 'lasso' and missed his opponent. The second man was more successful. His 'lasso' settled on the shoulders of his antagonist and pinned his arms to his side. In that helpless position his rival shot him with cool deliberation. Directly afterwards he rode off to the house where lived the cause of the tragedy. She mounted behind him and galloped to the scene of the crime."

Affairs in Montevideo are as dry as dust, moistened only by a howl of derision from all the independent papers at the mooted new financial scheme of the President. Most of them declare it to be an absurdity or a myth, like the defunct loan.

The following are the principal prizes drawn in the Montevideo Lottery yesterday: 2459, $20,000; 2986, $1,000; 4851, 6385, $500 each; 5016, 10618, 9189, $200 each; 10319, 8015, 10857, 10103, 8886, 8210, and 5619, $100 each.

Among the passengers just arrived from Europe is Mr. Alfred Edward Lonergan, representative of the well-known house of Ross and Duncan, marine engineers and boiler-makers, Whitefield Works, Govan, Glasgow, whoso sole representatives in the Argentine Republic are Oswell and Henry of our city and Rosario. We wish him a pleasant stay and every success in pushing the business of the house. He leaves shortly for Rio Janeyro with a similar object.

With much pleasure we state that letters received from Cosquin announce that Mrs. Bravo, who left here last month in such delicate health, is now completely convalescent and is able to make trips over the mountains with her mother, Madame Fernandez. This speaks well for Cosquin as a health resort.

To-morrow night over 300 friends leave by Southern Railway for Mar del Plata, to return after the holiday, or on the following Monday.

In another column we publish the programme of to-morrow evenings' entertainment at the American church. The programme is as diversified as it well could be, and should draw a big crowd. Nobody need stay away from fear of a lack of seats, or of cool spots, as we understand that three patios will be open to the audience, where they can regale themselves, to their hearts' content with ices, tea, &c., &c., at the hands and with the smiles of "damosels fair to see."

There ought to be lots of turtle soup at La Plata now. On Friday last, at the mole at Punta Lara, no fewer than 32 fair sized turtles were caught by five fishermen.

Our esteemed colleague the Imparcial of Pergamino plumes itself on having accurately predicted the recent cyclones in Santa-Fé; and has also forecast another "tearer" in the province of Buenos Ayres between the 3d and 6th inst: so our friends and subscribers in the Queen province may look out for squalls to-night.

There is a curious idea lingering in some places that when the death of a person is imminent the fastening of the doors of the room or house hinders painfully the departure of the soul from the body. Take an instance or two. A gentleman, writing forty years ago, has stated that when he was a curate in Exeter he called upon a parishioner who was on his death-bed. The wife told him that she thought her husband would have died during the previous night and that consequently she had unfastened every lock in the house. The same idea prevails in the north as well as in the west and south west of England.

Somebody said a month ago that the Locust was not addicted to the vice of chewing tobacco. Is n't he? Just ask Mr. Peter Heguy of Carmelo B. O., who has his handkerchief to his eyes for a splendid plantation of tobacco devoured even to the stalks.

The Albertini Tramway in Concepcion, Paraguay must be going ahead in a way to make the dividendless shareholders of Buenos Ayres tramways mad with envy. Such is the increase of traffic on the Albertini, that it has had to double its rolling stock within a month. In October it had only one car running: and the arrival of a new one last month caused an outbreak of "entusiasmo delirante" amongst the population.

Messrs. Devoto Balbiani & Co., in their important wool circular for last week, state that wool was in demand and active at advancing prices. Towards the end of the week there was a lull in business and a slackening in prices, a complete change having taken place. Special wools have not suffered: the few parcels of this kind were in demand and changed hands at $8½ to $9 for extra fine from the South, $7¼o $7.70 for those from the West and $7 to $7½ for those from the Northern camps. Good Southern classes were done at $7½ to $8, West from $6.80 to $7.20, and North $6.50 to $7 "pasto tierno" kind. Defective wools are sold with difficulty, quoted at $5 for parcels with much "carretilla" and $5.20 those from the West. Special cross Lincoln qualities from the South fetched 9½ to $10, good 8 to $8½, and middling 7 to $7½. Business in "pasto fuerte" parcels from the West, South, National Territories and Pampa was active at 5 to 5.50$ for inferior, 5.60 to 5.80$ for middling, 6 to 6.50 light qualities, and 6.80 to 7$ for special qualities. The fall in prices has principaly affected middling qualities. Arrivals were very large during the week. Very little was done in Entre Rios wools. Two parcels from Gualeguay and Gualeguaychu fetched 7 to 7.20$. Sheepskins arrived in large quantities: there is a large supply of middling and inferior qualities. Inferior qualities changed hands at 0.75 cents "consumo" and 0.65 "descecho." Middling qualities were freely sold at 0.70. The article is in demand.

The Accountant General, obeying orders of the Minister of Finance, has applied to the Board of Public Works for reimbursement of 120,350$, balance of money over in that establishment, voted, but not spent on public works.

Messrs. Williams and Co. have applied for packet privileges for the steamer Urano of the Compañia Pastoril Brasilera, to carry mails between this port and Brazil.

The Department of Engineers have applied to the Government for 58185$ m/n for expenditure in the Riachuelo works for the current month.

Mr. Dawney, who has arrived from London, was welcomed on 'Change by his numerous friends. We understand that he successfully negotiated a very important business in the London market.

To-morrow the auction of the estancia of the late Mr. Goodhall in Bahia Blanca will come off. The estancia is well known all over the South, having been stocked for very many years. We doubt not that it will fetch a high price.

Mr. Charles Olmi, the popular auctioneer, sold at auction yesterday two fine properties: a quinta in Belgrano of 60x40, with 6-roomed house, for 14,000$ m/n: the upset price was 11,176$; the place was sold by order of Judge Saavedra and was bought by Mr. G. Nogues. Mr. Olmi sold also the property of Mr. Nicholas Parravicini, Calle Malabia 877, with 20,000 National Cedulas C mortgage; the property fetched 8,340$ above the amount of cedulas. Buyer, Mr. J. C. Moyano.

The cheques of the Provincial Bank closed at 37½ discount. Those of the National Bank at 13½ discount nominal. Bonos of the La Plata Mortgage Bank closed at 21.30 % if face value.

The drawing of the Empresito 1891 bonds by the Banco de la Nacion has brought new buyers of the stock into the market, and these bonds were in stiff demand to-day, although, as we previously remarked, there are some holders of this stock who refuse to amortize their bonds at 75 and interest, and prefer to hold them as permanent investment, they pay such a good interest. We hear that the next amortization by the bank will be for double the amount of the present month, that is to say for two millions. It is clear therefore that soon this loan will be completely amortized and paid off.

Mr. Juan Pablo Cordoba has bought from Don Pedro Giccuero two leagues of land in the vicinity of San Blas harbor at the rate of 15,00$ m/n per league. Mr. Cordoba is now sole owner of the peninsula known as Isla de Walker, one of the finest properties south of Bahia Blanca.

About eight hundred thousand dollars were sold at the second ring, the premium closing at 183% for to-morrow and 182% for the end of the month, and 183 % for Saturday. The speculation was slightly weaker than in the morning, on the strength of the news that the Deputies would support Minister Romero in his Budget Bill.

Stocks and shares were duller than in the morning. Cedulas were slighly firmer.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the second ring today:—

No one knowing anything of the present state of Montevideo could possibly suppose that the Telephone Company there would even cover expenses. Mr. Powers the thanager, who has such a wide circle of friends here, has left for good, as the salary was cut down so low that there was no living on it. We extract the following from the report, which may interest the market:—

"The accounts for the year ending 31st July last show a profit of £6,408 18s 4d, which, including the amount of £470 6s 11d brought forward from last year, leaves an available balance of £6,879 5s 3d, after providing for all working expenses in Montevideo and London, and after writing off £129 12s 2d for proportion of preliminary expenses, and £50 for depreciation of furniture at head office and in Montevideo. As stated in the last report, a considerable reduction has been effected in the general working expenses. In Montevideo the net decrease as compared with last year is £2,000, and in London £406. This latter item is almost entirely due to the reduction and final extinction of the managing director's salary, Mr E. F. Powers having resigned this position. The lease of the central office in Montevideo expired on the 1st February last, and as the landlord positively refused to listen to any new proposal on any terms whatsoever, there was no alternative but to enter into an agreement to purchase the property, the immense cost and probable loss of subscribers that would have been entailed by taking other premises quite precluding the idea of removal. After much trouble, the terms of purchase were satisfactorily concluded by a contract dated 2nd February, 1892, entered into with Don Francisco Alzola, the landlord of the premises, and Don Miguel Harispuru (the company's attorney in Montevideo), and the manager, the purchase price being $45,000, payable by monthly instalments, terminating on the 2nd February, 1893, when the central station will become the freehold property of the company. The total amount paid off to the close of our financial year, namely, 31st July last, was $20,000. Considering the gloom that has been overhanging the City of Montevideo throughout the period now being dealt with, the directors point with satisfaction to the fact that the net result of the year's working is £1,622 more than last year.

We take the following from last Saturday's Railway News:—

The receipts this week of the seven principal Argentine railways amount to £68,140 on 4,061 miles worked for revenue account, comparing with £58,346 and 3,663 miles in the corresponding week of 1891.

The increase in mileage this year is 398, or 10.9 per cent., and in gross earning £9,794, or 16.8 per cent.

The receipts per mile of line per week were £16.16s. 8d. in 1892, compared with £15.18s.7d. in the previous year, an improvement of 17s.1d., or 5.5 per cent.

The value of the £ sterling was approximately $18.55 in the corresponding week of 1891, and $13.95 last week, the currency having appreciated 33 per cent. over last year.

The Rosario, Ensenada and Central Argentine lines show nearly 37 per cent increase in gross earnings over the corresponding week last year, while the Pacific was 28 por cent, Buenos Ayres Western 22 per cent, and the Argentine Great Western 7 per cent better. The Great Southern line exhibits a small decrease in comparison with last year.

The Central Uruguay and auxiliary lines appear to be gaining ground to some extent, the week's returns being the best since April, though not quite up to the level of last year's figures per mile.

Sir William Young, one of the directors of the new English bank of the River Plate, has arrived in Montevideo from London. He comes on a special mission to hurry up the liquidation of the English Bank of the River Plate in that city, and it is to be hoped that he will receive every support from the creditors of the bank, who must see that it is their own interest to re open the establishment as quickly as possible. The great difficulty, they say, that surrounds the business is the large amount of non-negotiable stocks held by the bank as collaterals; but the English Bank of Montevideo is no exception in this regard; every bank, every merchant, in fact everyone who had anything has in his safe some stock or other which is today without a market quotation, and the English Bank of Montevideo must do as we all do with such stocks, namely lock them up and let them rest for better times. The Montevidean creditors of the bank must not be too "exigente," and they will find it their own interest to assist Sir William Young in every possible way to close the liquidation.

There is a very great question pending between the National Government and the Berlin bankers about the 1886 bond for 10,000,000 gold, which the Government gave the National bank to balance its account. The bank pledged the bond in Germany with the bankers, who insisted upon the special guarantee of the bank for the service of the debt. In July 1891 both the Government and the bank suspended the service The Government offered to pay the bankers moratorium bonds, which was refused, but ultimately accepted, but not at their par value, as was paid to all the other creditors, but at their market value, giving treasury bills for the difference between the market and the par value of the bond; these bills amount to 130 odd thousand dollars gold, but as there is no special fund to meet them, and the National Bank won't pay them, the question has to go before Congress, where there is strong opposition, as it gives an unfair preference to the German over the English creditor. The finale of this business will be that the Germans will get paid their full amount, but they must take their turn like all the rest and wait until the country comes round sufficiently to cover all its indebtedness.

The Banco Comercial de Dolores was duly inaugurated last week and its doors were thrown open to the public; we wish the new concern the very best success. The bank is startad on local capital, has no connection with any Government, asks for no fiscal privileges and rests on its own public for support. These are the banks we want in this country.
